Here's What Insurance Professionals Had To Say:

“ This designation benefits individuals by helping them illustrate their commitment toward enhancing the quality of service provided to their clients. Achieving the designation also demonstrates a high level of professionalism to an agency's customers and/or prospective customers.”

Jennifer Kacmarsky, ACSR
Director of Education, Independent Insurance Agents & Brokers of New Jersey

“ I have worked with the ACSR program in many capacities, from sitting on curriculum review committees, to teaching the classes in my state, to recommending it to my own colleagues and office staff. From the comments I have received, I know that participants love the curriculum and find it interesting and useful in their jobs.

I find that people always want to move quickly through the program because they feel like they gain so much from it—knowledge that helps them progress in their field and achieve their goals. I have had every level of student in my classes from very new to the industry all the way up to agency principles 'who just needed the hours.' But they all have the same reaction: 'Wow. I learned something new today.' I highly recommend ACSR to anyone looking to learn a new area of our trade, refresh their knowledge or advance in their existing area, or earn a designation that is recognizable and respected in our industry. ”

Patty S. Padon, AAI
Benefits Consultant, Pat Campbell Insurance, LLC

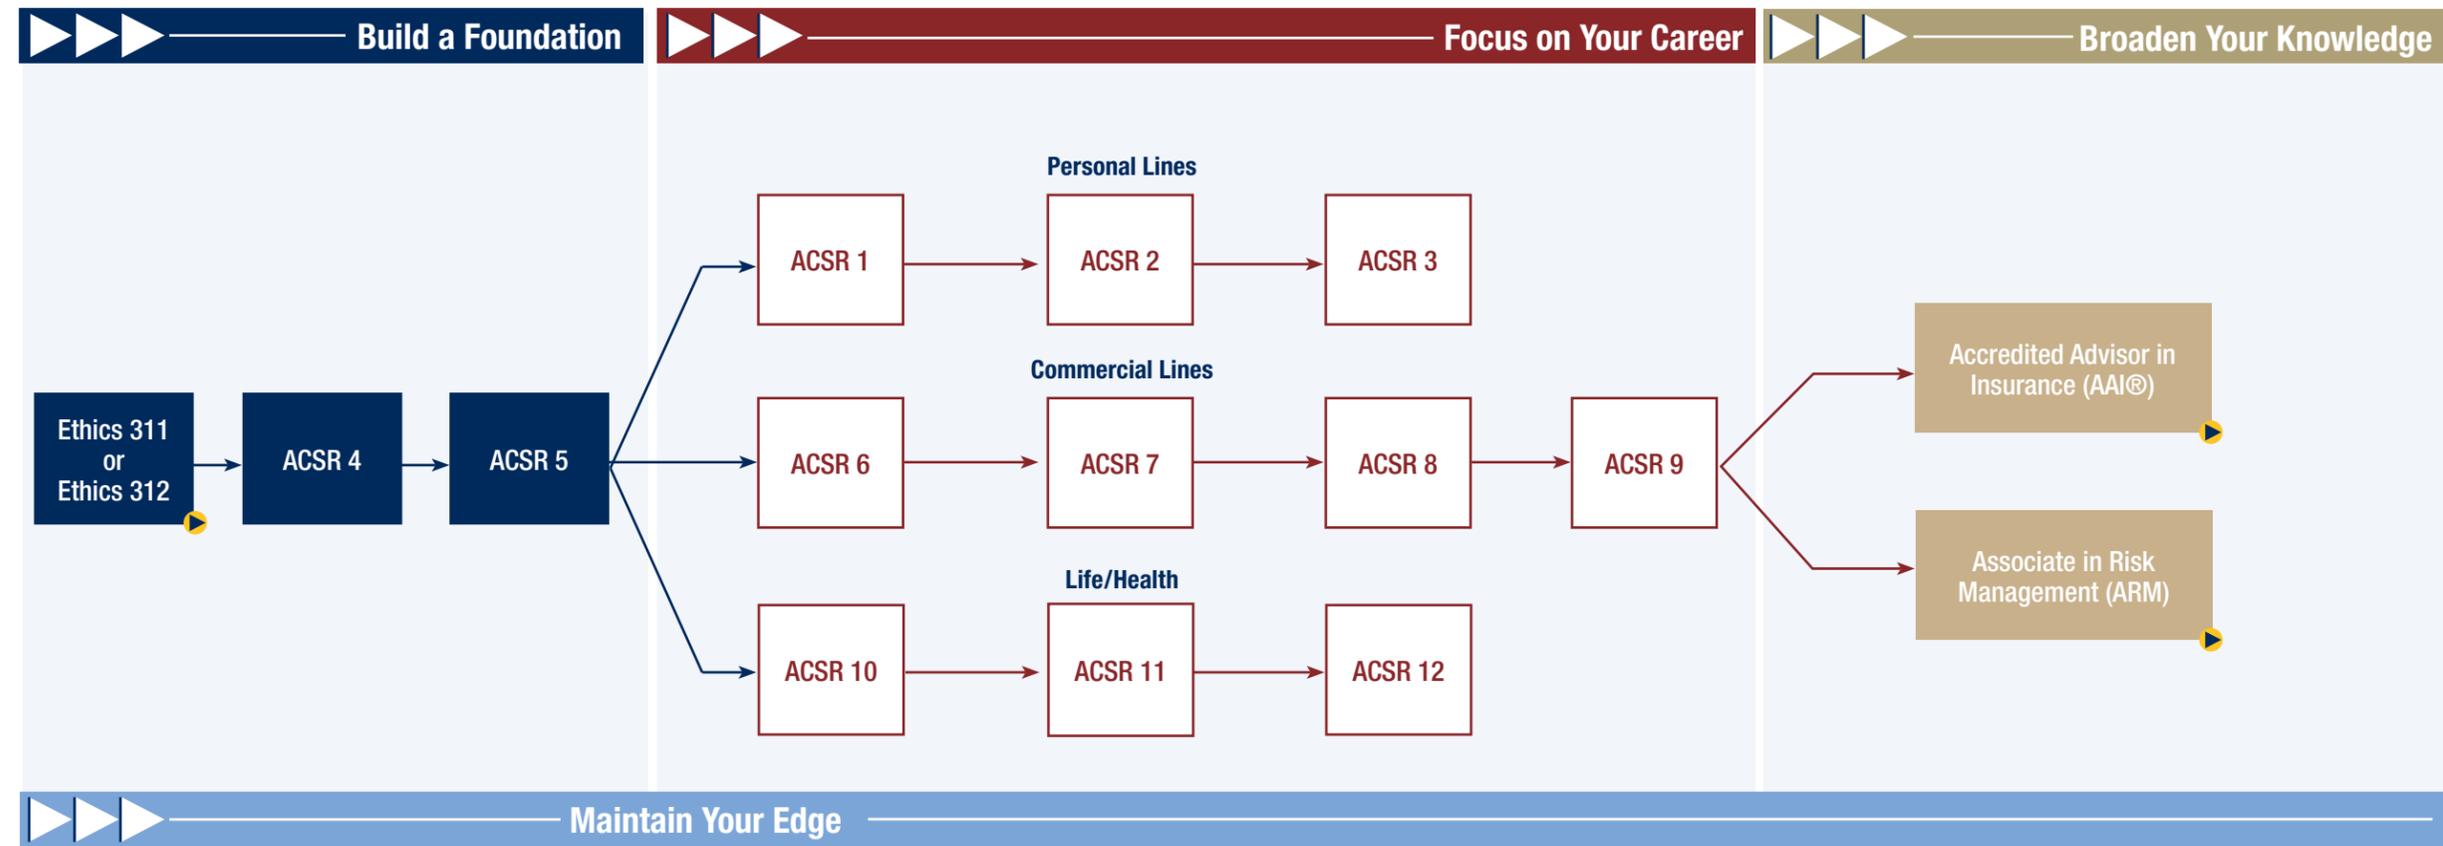

“ Professional development with The Institutes opens up doors and expands the horizon of opportunities available to you. Institute designation programs and courses teach you how to think more broadly and, in the process, help you gain recognition from your peers and management. With any industry, the more you learn, the better you can perform on the job, and the insurance and risk management industries are no different. ”

Randall Clinger, CPCU, ARe
Vice President, Head of Marketing Communications, Swiss Re America Holding Corporation
